

Stanford Libraries - Is the Library at Stanford University. They are future-oriented innovators and long-term thinkers providing world-class expert services. They take the privacy of the Stanford community very seriously. The 3.0 Webcam Cover was produced for all of their computers and laptops. They also produced extras to be able to give away to the Stanford community.

DSM – vertical (Medical) American Psychiatric Association and its members know the importance of privacy protection when it comes to working with patients. By covering the webcam they keep all sessions private while also keeping their association brand front and center.
